Water Co. In Plea Against Dam Plan

FIVE REASONS ARE GIVEN AS TO WHY PROTEST IS FILED

Five outstanding reasons why they oppose construction of the proposed flood control project in San Antonio canyon were emphatically stated today by directors of the West End Consolidated Water Co. William Springer is president of the company.

"We feel, as the parent company of six other organizations developing water and irrigating some 1,200 acres, that the project would be detrimental to our own interests and to the interests of the community at large," says a statement issued by the directors. The following reasons were listed:

WATER RIGHTS ENDANGERED

"Water from San Antonio creek would be captured and controlled in works entirely owned by and at the disposal of the federal government. There is no legal precedent governing the continuance of existing water rights and San Bernardino county feels that the defense of its water rights would be 10 times easier without the concrete channel than with it.

"Construction of this flume would eliminate water absorption in the natural channel and would necessitate considerable expenditure of money which would have to be raised by taxation for additional spreading grounds.

RE-EXCAVATION LIKELY

"We have no assurance that at any time our county would not have to shoulder the cost of re-excavating the 5½ million yard debris basin. To completely do this would cost at least a million and a half dollars.

"It is evident from the attitude of the army engineers that at flood time it is they who would direct the operation of the flood gates. We, then, would be in the position of having to ask that we be granted water which is now ours by right.

"Major floods occur at long and irregular intervals. Droughts and low water levels are a constant accompaniment of the years. We feel we would rather rehabilitate ourselves after an occasional flood than to endure high pumping costs and restricted water use."

ASSEMBLYMEN DISCUSS PLAN

Construction of the canyon project is being discussed in the state legislature. Assemblyman Godfrey Andreas has expressed an intention to present a resolution asking Congress not to permit placing of the dam in the canyon. Assemblyman Lee Bashore, Glendale, has replied that he will oppose Andreas' resolution.

Uplander Is First In Horse Judging In State Contest

California's leading judge of horse flesh among Future Farmers of America chapters was the title won by Philip Collier, 595 North Euclid avenue, Upland, at San Luis Obispo last Saturday. As a member of the Chaffey high school livestock judging team, Collier will go to Kansas City, Mo., in October to compete in the national contests. Second high individual in the judging of horses was Dexter Galentine. Rex Rogers was the third member of the team.

The team, as a whole, was given a cup for receiving 1362.8 points in the entire contest, 38.8 above its nearest competitor, Petaluma high school. A second cup was given for the best record in the horse division.

The dairy and poultry teams from Chaffey placed in the upper half of the competition. Students who took part in the judging, which formed the final day of the annual convention of Future Farmers in California, were Steven Holbrook, Charles Mann, Thomas Betzer, poultry; Robert Halstead, Gerald Weber, Weldon Moore, dairy. Charles Perrin and Ralph Coleman, instructors, accompanied the boys.

Chaffey teams have represented California in livestock judging at the national Kansas City finals in 1922, 1926 and 1929. The last time they returned with the championship cup and in 1922 William Armstrong was the highest individual judger.

Very Brief Interviews

MORE PAYROLL FAVORED

David Niswander, general contractor: "What we need in this town is a new industry—another payroll that would put new money into circulation. More building of new homes would be a direct result of a new industry."

CHAFFEY WPA RECORD

Norman Lawson, a member of the Chaffey school board of trustees says: "Persons who think that construction work on the new building at Chaffey has proceeded at a slow pace will be interested to know that Chaffey holds the record for speediest construction of any WPA project in the state. I believe the WPA is a set-up that will be with us for a long time."

BRIGHT COLORS BEST

Miss Elizabeth McQuillen: "I like gay colors. They make me feel good," she said, when complimented on a rose "kerchief" which she wore with a soft gray outfit.

EVERYBODY LIKES HIM

ETIWANDA OPENS BALL SEASON ON NEW BALL PARK

G. E. Team Will Be Foes as American League Schedule Begins

One of the finest and best equipped baseball diamonds in San Bernardino county will be the setting tonight for one of the major games in opening of the American night ball league.

Etiwanda's ball park, which adjoins the community's new school building, will see the popular Etiwanda nine serve as host to the hard hitting General Electric "Hotpoint" team.

In celebration of the league opener, the Fontana Boys' band will give a concert. The band will also be on hand to help Etiwanda celebrate, if the veteran S. Kemp can outpitch the famous Cab Calloway, Hotpoint twirler.

Win or lose, it's going to be a big night in the Etiwanda district. The new ball park is really something and tonight's game will be the first of a series of league games to be played on the field once a week.

Under the managership of Frank Ellema, the Etiwanda team is scheduled to be a strong contender for the league title. Two San Bernardino teams are also in the circuit.

While the definite line-up for the Etiwanda team has not been announced, Manager Ellena expected to have Kemp or Mathis on the mound at the start, with Frost behind the plate. Leon Utman is the mainstay at first, Araiza at second, C. Johnson third and Francis Johnson, one of the most impressive players in the circuit, cavorting at short. Fielders are likely to be Brownless, Scott and Banky.

Five hundred persons can be accommodated in the new bleachers. Eighteen poles hold powerful lights for illumination of the playing field.

First Grass Fire Of Season Brings Out Truck May 6

Annual grass fire season was opened Saturday, May 6, when the Upland firemen were called to put out a fire on a vacant lot on Bowen street, south of East Ninth street. The fire occurred at 1:50 p. m., was of unknown origin and no damage was done.

Every year this story is written over and over, the only changes being in place and time.

The clearing of weeds and grass from vacant lots is being done in many instances, but some property owners, especially those living in other places, are slow to remove such fire hazards, with the resulting expense of the fire truck responses to calls.

Memorial Day Plans Discussed by Group

A Pomona National guard company may join the Ontario National guard to make the parade of greater significance. All of the 15 patriotic organizations are expected to participate in the parade.

A program in the new Chaffey auditorium, following the parade, is being planned as an event which will be an outstanding one, according to the announcement.

Definite time of the parade and program has not been set as yet.

Burglar-Proof Safe Doors Placed In Bank After 44 Hours Continuous Labor

Working 44 hours without stopping, except to eat and drink coffee, nine employes of the Ellis Safe Co., Los Angeles, spent a busy week end at the First National Bank of Upland installing modern, burglar proof doors on the two bank vaults. Armed guards patrolled the building Saturday and Sunday, both day and night, while the bank's wealth was shoved out of the vaults into the bookkeeping section.

Just before dawn on Monday morning when the work was finished, the safe experts appeared as groggy as aviators landing after a non-stop flight.

SEVEN INCHES OF STEEL

Workers began operations Saturday morning, and it was not until 4 a. m. on Monday that they completed the job of hanging the doors. Each door has a thickness of seven inches of solid steel. The bank's vaults have walls of reinforced concrete 18 inches thick. It was to make the doors as burglar proof as the walls that the change was made.

With each door weighing 14,000 pounds, or seven tons, the task of hanging them was a Herculean Job. In the first place, the vault openings had be be enlarged. Ten hours were required to do this, inasmuch as it meant cutting through reinforced concrete walls. Then, moving the doors on steel plates across the marble floor of the bank without damage demanded great care, as well as sliding the heavy doors through a partition doorway with only one-eighth of an inch to spare.

BURGLAR ALARM READY

Each of the new doors contains two combinations. Doors and vault walls are also equipped with a sound wave device which means that any tampering with the walls or doors sets off the burglar alarm.

Officials of the Upland bank explained that the new improvements afford maximum protection to vaults and safety deposit boxes. In fact, no bank vault so protected has ever been burglarized, according to H. A. Noyes of Los Angeles, who installed sound-wave equipment.

W. C. Cline, cement contractor, and Colborn Electric Co. did the concrete and electrical work necessary for the improvements.

GOOD LEMON PRICES EXPECTED IN FALL BY COUNTY EXPERT

Short Supply of Lemons in Fall Will Send Price For Lemons Up

Better prices for lemons this fall and early winter in the forecast of Calvin C. Delphey, supervising agricultural inspector for the west end of San Bernardino county.

Mr. Delphey bases his predictions on the small supply of lemons which will be available at that time. Most of the large crop of tree ripe lemons which has been hanging on the trees for the past six months, is picked, and all will be off in two or three weeks, he says.

Trees throughout the district are showing marked improvement the past few weeks from the destructive wind in February, he pointed out. Trees with one side almost defoliated are beginning to look normal now with new leaves on the once bare limbs.

A heavy bloom is seen at present on the north side of wind-damaged trees. How much of this crop will set is a matter of conjecture, according to Mr. Delphey.

Because of a comparatively cold winter, pests are not worrying many orchardists at the present time. The situation today is quite different than a year ago when thrips were causing damage to many groves. At present, however, very little pest control is being applied for thrips alone. In some instances spray of two percent lime sulphur in conjunction with three pounds of wettable sulphur per one hundred pounds of water is being applied, Delphey reports.

Program and Social Hour Being Planned For Heights League

A special program and social hour are being planned for the regular meeting of the San Antonio Heights Community League to be held Thursday evening, May 11, at 7:30, at the Eighteenth Street school building.

For the program Mrs. Edna Swan, local expert photographer, will show colored motion pictures of fields of wild flowers, of the San Francisco exposition, Yosemite, and other places. These pictures are very beautiful and show many interesting scenes.

Special plans are being made for the social hour and refreshments will be served during that time.

Dr. Chas. B. Taylor, president of the League, especially requests a large attendance and asks that all residents cooperate in making the evening a successful one.

Another reason for Dr. Taylor's insistance on all members being present is that matters of special interest are to be discussed.

Well Baby Clinic At Fannie D. Noe School Scheduled

The well baby conferences scheduled for June by the county health department under the direction of Miss Sally Wallen, supervisor of nursing, has been received by Mrs. Frances Gilmore, local school nurse.

Date for the conference in the Fannie D. Noe school is Friday, June 9, from 9 to 12 a. m.

Physical examinations will be given children of pre-school age for the purpose of discovering possible defects that should be corrected. The conference is not for sick babies, only well babies being received for the check-up.

While any child of pre-school age will be given the examination, mothers are especially urged to bring the younger children and babies, since the examination at the earlier ages may prevent possible trouble as the child grows older.

FREEDOM IS BRIEF FOR TWO FLEEING FROM PRISON CAMP

Youths Get Away From Camp Baldy Area in An Automobile

Away from the Los Angeles county prison camp near Camp Baldy only a few hours, two young men were back in the camp under guard this afternoon. James Hoven, 19, Seattle, and Robert Schenck, 20, escaped at 2 p. m. yesterday. They were arrested in Los Angeles early this morning. Getting away from San Antonio canyon in an automobile, the escaped men were followed by officers throughout the night. They were returned to the camp under guard and they will be held there until charges are filed against them.

Since the escape occurred in Los Angeles county and since the men headed toward Los Angeles, local officers were not called in on the hunt. A report of the escape, however, was sent to the Upland police department.

The prison camp is located a short distance west of Camp Baldy.

Meeting of Rotary Club at San Antonio Community Hospital

Once each year—in observance of Hospital day—the meeting of the Upland Rotary club is held at San Antonio Community hospital at the invitation of the manager, Dr. A. A. Alta. Today was the occasion for such meeting—and a wonderful luncheon prepared and served by hospital attaches was immensely enjoyed by the Rotarians. The meeting was held on the long veranda at the front of the building and afforded a delightful setting with the attractive lawn in front.

Also an annual custom at this meeting is the choosing of the best looking Rotarian by vote of the hospital nurses—Chas. Barr winning the honor coveted by all Rotarians present. As the father of the largest family John Frost carried off the honors in that event.

President R. G. Manley announced the meeting to be held at Chaffey high school on May 23—at the regular time. A series of conferences and addresses will be held throughout the day under the auspices of the Chaffey institutions and the service clubs of the district.

A generous amount was contributed in fines at today's meeting and the sum will go to purchase a crank bed that is needed by the hospital.

The club members rejoiced to hear the good news that the condition of Roy Creighton, member of the club, and Archie Moore, a former member, both of whom are patients at the hospital at this time, is satisfactory—and all are hoping for their speedy recovery.

We Have Decided to Slow Down

With most persons who have been actively engaged in business for many years it is undoubtedly a difficult matter to decide when they should relinquish some of their strenuous activities and at least slow down somewhat. Many wait too long—and while they expect some day to at least "take it a little easier" they never reach that stage. In recent years it has been very evident that a number of persons active in this community for many years put off that decision too long—and the shocking news of their sudden death emphasized the fact that they kept "at the grind" too long—without warning they were gone.

While this News Guy does not feel he has reached the stage where he is going to leave this world in a sudden and unceremonious manner—especially in our present state of good health—we have decided that it is about time that we relinquish some activities in the conduct of the business of The News and shift them onto the shoulders of the younger member of the firm, who is so willing and anxious to assume them, and at the same time enable him to acquire a larger interest in the business as the years go by. Accordingly from this date—at least during the next few months—the News Guy will not put in so many hours at the headquarters of the dispenser of local news for the community. Naturally, along with all other kinds of business the newspaper business has suffered during the too many years of depression and in the same proportion. And as summer months are the "slowest" time of the year—and economy of operation must be the watchword to greater degree than at any other period—this will be a good time to vacation to a greater or less extent.

Back in northeast Missouri—where we first saw the light of day—this News Guy made his first visit to a newspaper office in company with our dad, who took us in to get us a job at starting to learn the printing trade. We were a "kid" of thirteen at that time—but since that, to us, memorable day, we have been outside a printing office very little of the time—and we have served as the proverbial printer's devil and on up through all lines of work connected with a small town newspaper to that of owner and publisher.

It seems a long way from thirteen to nearly sixty years—in the light of things which have happened during that period. That first day we went to work in a "print shop" we did not dream of ever owning a newspaper of our own, but through what now really does not seem so many years—but during the time seemed quite slow progress—we were able to progress to the foremanship and a few years later found the owner of an Iowa county seat paper who had enough faith in us to accept as first payment on a half interest in his paper the few hundred dollars we had saved. Within a few years after that we were able to acquire a small paper we could call all our own—after we had struggled a few more years and got it paid for.

Not due to brilliance, but through willingness to work and save a portion of what we earned did we accomplish what little we have in our favorite field of endeavor. It is with a desire to encourage young people who may be looking with hope—though perhaps with more or less discouragement as to the outlook at the present time—that we recount our experience. We hope we can impress upon them that there is opportunity for success for those who will apply themselves and make a conscientious and determined effort to succeed.

Opportunities open up to those who are ready to take advantage of them. The "going is tough" at this time—but there have been other periods of "hard times"—a number of them—in the history of this great country of ours, but these have been followed by greater periods of prosperity than those preceding them. The present "depression" is undoubtedly the longest one the country has yet experienced—but it will emerge from it in the same way as it has in each of the previous ones.

Young man or young woman—don't be caught unprepared when your opportunity comes.

Education has a mammoth task confronting it, figures from the United States Office of Education reveal. That department's survey found that fifty per cent of the world's population is unable to read or write. In numbers, that places the size of this earth's legions of illiterates at somewhat over one billion persons. To most of us, this appears to be a woeful lack. Mass education is a precept with us, and in this state we require every child to master not only reading and writing, but to take twelve years of formal schooling. Yet only a few centuries ago the ability to write even their own names was a gift known to few people—and monarchs were known to boast of their inability to read. Outside the British Empire the gift of reading and writing is one of the few possessions that monarchs today have left to boast of! If the Three R's are going to make headway against the world's dark areas of illiteracy—the percentage of illiteracy in the United States is only 4.3 per cent—they will sorely need three E's. These are encouragement, expansion and enforcement, carried on by enlightened governments!

To pay the annual cost of government—local, state and national—for the year 1937 in this country, required, so we read, an amount the equivalent to the following: All the oil in Oklahoma and Texas, all the gold in California, all the silver in Nevada, all the copper in Montana, all the wheat of Kansas and the Dakotas, all the corn of Iowa, all the manufacturing of St. Louis and Kansas City, all the aluminum bauxite of Arkansas, all the dairying of Minnesota, all the hard oil of Nebraska, all the coal of Colorado, all the phosphate of Idaho, all the ranches of Wyoming, all the apples of Washington, all the lumber of Oregon, all the sugar beets of Utah, all the mines of New Mexico and all the produce of Arizona. And in addition, we are told, that if we add to the foregoing the many millions of dollars that make up the rest of the income from these states we will have the cost of government—local, state and federal—in the United States. And you may feel certain that the cost of government has not decreased in this country since 1937.

Do you know what your portion of the public debt of our nation is? In all probability it is more than you think. In discussing the problem the editor of the Albany, Mo., Capital gets at it in this way: "When we read about the national debt, we wonder just how much they are talking about. If they want us to absorb the facts, they will have to quit talking in billions of dollars and get down to $1 bills or something like that, because we can comprehend such figures. They say it figures out about $325 per capita, and if they were to demand payment for our family that would be $1,300. At $1 a day, we would have to lie in jail 1,300 days because it is a cinch we haven't that much money."

BOOM IN SALE OF BONDS REPORTED

Sales Are Five Times More Than Year Ago, Upland Office Says

A boom in the sale of United States Savings Bonds appears to be underway at the Upland post office, according to figures released by O. P. Brady, postmaster. More than five times as many dollars worth of bonds have been sold during the first four months of 1939 as were sold during a corresponding period in 1938. In fact, the total money received for savings bonds in 1939, so far, is three times the amount taken in during the entire previous year.

Savings bonds, with a maturity value of $37,150, representing a cash investment of $27,862, have been sold during the first four 1939 months. In 1938 the figure for four months cash investment totaled $4,900, while the year's sales of bonds totaled $9,618.75.

EXPLANATION LACKING

Postmaster Brady offered no explanation regarding the remarkable increase. Some investors are buying bonds with a face, or maturity value of $25 each month. These bonds mature in ten years. Many investors consider these bond investments in the nature of annuity, planning to withdraw their money at the rate of $25 a month at the end of ten years.

Savings bonds come in denominations of $25 to $1,000. The purchase price is exactly three-fourths of the maturity value. Hence, a $100 bond can be purchased for $75, and at the end of ten years can be sold for $100.

FIRST SOLD IN 1935

Savings bonds were first placed on sale March 1, 1935, and since that time the total maturity value of purchases amounts to $2,437,108,850, and purchases have been made by 1,564,608 investors.

Chicago leads the nation in amount of sales made by any first class post office in 1938.

Among second class post offices, Calumet, Mich., leads, with total cash purchases in 1938 of $219,918.75. Horse Cave, Kentucky, third class post office, claims first place in its group with cash purchase of $65,868.75. Plemons, Texas, turned in an extraordinary cash amount of $99,637.50 for 1938.

Mrs. Ted Phillips Bowls 208 To Set Record for Women

Mrs. Ted Phillips established what is believed to be one of the highest marks ever made by a woman in bowling when she rolled 208 points on the local alley Saturday. Paul Williams, the manager, who has been about in the bowling business, explained that he had never heard of such a high score on the "duck pin" alleys.

A prize is given each week for the high scorer and Mrs. Phillips won that prize Saturday. This prize is offered to men as well as women, but Mrs. Phillips' mark exceeded the men's as well as the women's.

In the women's bowling league games last night, the "White Sox" trio took first place over "We Truckers". Mary Barany, a "White Sox" bowler, rolled the match total of 361 to set the pace.

Camp Baldy Rink, Plunge Plans Off

Plans for an ice skating rink and swimming pool at Camp Baldy have been abandoned temporarily due to the curtailment of the water supply available for the resort, Mrs. Ruth Curry Burns reported today.

After June 1, the resort will obtain its water supply from the San Antonio Cabin Owners association, according to Mrs. Burns. If the new supply proves adequate for a rink and pool, the improvements will be made later, she said.

Water for Camp Baldy has been obtained from springs on the San Antonio Water Co. lease, but Mrs. Curry has abandoned that lease and has retained only the government lease.

Babcock Peaches At Chaffey Sold

Entire 1939 crop from the Chaffey Babcock peach orchard has been sold to the K. & S. jobbers, bonded commission merchants in Los Angeles. Negotiations were made through George P. Weldon, pomologist. A $500 deposit was made for the fruit on the trees before thinning.

The estimated 100 tons of peaches raised on the 37 acre orchard will be retailed as far east as Salt Lake City and Denver. By disposing of the crop in this manner the school will be saved the expense of packing and shipping.

Chaffey Press Is Chosen Best in Its Class in Southland

One gold cup, two medals and a first place certificate were awarded the Chaffey United Press and its staff writers at the annual Southern California Junior College Press association convention held on the local campus last Saturday. Edited by Vernon MacPherson, the Press was judged the best all-around newspaper of seven or eight columns in the association. In the afternoon writers contest, Miss Virginia Ellis received a medal for first place in the news story division and Miss Louise Fitez a similar trophy for second place in the feature story division.

Chaffey was given the gold cup by Beta Phi Gamma, junior college journalism fraternity, for scoring most points in the same contest. The convention was attended by 120 student journalists from 13 schools and newspaper men from the valley. Ventura junior college will act as host to the 1940 convention.

Others who plan to attend are the presidents of several member associations, including Mrs. T. George Cunning of the Upland P.-T. New Date Set for Annual Meeting of Cucamonga Church

The date of the annual meeting, which climaxes the year at the Cucamonga Community church, has been changed to a week earlier than previously planned, and will be held Wednesday evening, June 14, preceded by a contributed dish supper at 6:30.

The change of date, announced by the pastor, Rev. William A. Tieck, is in response to a request contained in a letter just received from Dr. F. G. H. Stevens, the district superintendent, and written from Kansas City, where he is a delegate to the historic uniting conference now in session.

"We are hard at it," writes Dr. Stevens. "The uniting conference is staged in an auditorium covering a block. It is a whale of a building. The delegates have the entire main floor, each with a chair and desk. The whole building seats over 10,000 people."

EXPLAINS CONCLAVE

Rev. Mr. Tieck explained that uniting conference is the culmination of long years of effort to bring together the three largest branches of Methodist believers, the Methodist Episcopal church, the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and the Methodist Protestant church.

The three originally were one church, and they share the same basic beliefs. The Protestant church broke away in 1828 over objection to the authority of bishops and lack of lay representation in the councils of the church, while the South church withdrew in 1845 over the question of slavery.

These causes of disunion having long since disappeared, the uniting conference will give recognition to this fact by merging temporally and spiritually the 8,000,000 members concerned, under the new name of "The Methodist Church".

Just off the press of the United States government printing office, Washington, D. C., is a bulletin issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, entitled "The 1937 Freeze in California," by Floyd D. Young.

Included in the illustrations is a half-page photograph of Elmer Mathews, pictured in his lemon grove after the 1937 freeze. The picture demonstrates the benefits of orchard heating, and shows that "even tender buds and blossoms in protected groves were undamaged."

Contrasted with the Mathews grove is another picture on the same page of a grove, unprotected, entirely stripped of foliage and fruit.

The booklet reproduces the broadcasts during the freeze, and contains maps showing the number of hours during which temperatures in various districts dropped below 27 degrees.

Conclusions drawn by Mr. Young, government meteorologist at Pomona, are that adequate orchard heaters and oil storage can successfully combat frost. He also says: "If the general public insists on smokeless skies when the next freeze occurs, it undoubtedly will have to be at the cost of tremendous loss to the citrus industry and indirectly to the public, both in California and throughout the nation."

The bulletin can be obtained by writing to the government printing office in Washington, D. C.

CANCER CLINIC IS HOPE OF HOSPITAL

Endowment Funds Sought To Provide Aid for Many In Community

Establishment of a pre-cancer clinic at the San Antonio Community hospital is the aim of hospital leaders.

This and other projects, however, can be realized only if a larger endowment fund is established.

Members of the San Antonio Community hospital staff and the board of trustees met in a semi-annual session last night, the need for a larger endowment fund being the principal topic of discussion.

If a pre-cancer clinic were established many persons might be benefited before a serious condition developed, it was pointed out.

An endowment fund would also permit the hospital caring for many deserving needy persons who at present cannot receive the proper attention, according to the views expressed.
